

FATE OF GERMANS IN CHERBOURG SEALED

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

The first fire-engine house in Washington C. H. was built in 1833. It was 14 feet long, eight feet wide, eight feet high, and cost the large sum of $39.

I presume this "engine house" was built to house old "Leo," a fire engine which was originally purchased by private citizens and which was taken over by the village in 1833, by paying $9.37 each to Henry Phelps, Norman F. Jones, Wade Lottborow and Jesse Millikan.

Glancing through one of the old histories of Fayette County, a few days ago, I found reference to an old ordinance that might not "hold water" today, but it certainly protected the individual property owner to the nth degree in those days.

The ordinance was passed on July 4, 1864, and made it an offense "to leave, or cause to be left, any team, wagon, buggy, or other vehicle, or any horse, mule or other animal, on any street in the village within 30 feet of any house or dwelling, or any fence in front of same, without the consent of the owner of said premises, or hitch or fasten any horse or other animal to any ornamental or shade tree, planted or growing along or upon any such street, any person shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than five dollars nor less than 50c for each offense."

It used to be that when the trucks of an engine, tank or freight car broke down, it was a job for the wrecker, which was hurried in to lift the equipment up while new trucks were being placed in position.

They do many things differently in railroading, now-a-days, as shown when the front truck of a Pennsylvania freight engine tender suddenly snapped as the engine came to a stop on the main track near North Street Friday at 2 P. M.

It was the engine of the east-bound freight, so another engine was called here from Lancaster, and moved the train to its destination.

In the meantime the telephone was used, a new set of wheels and axle ordered sent by truck, and the work of jacking up the tender and installing the new wheels got under way, with the result that by 8 P. M. the engine was ready to move on its own power, with no wrecker being called.

Railroad men consider the break a lucky one, inasmuch as the train would have been wrecked if the break had occurred while the train was running at normal speed.

YUGOSLAV FORCES GETTING TOGETHER

Followers of Tito and King Settling Problems, Tip

BARI, Italy, June 19.—(P)—The Royal Yugoslav government of youthful King Peter and the fighting partisan movement under Marshal Tito have announced an accord "on many problems," with a view to strengthening relations with the Allies and aiding the Yugoslav peoples in their fight for liberation.

The agreement was reached in discussions inside Yugoslavia by Dr. Ivan Subasic, representing King Peter, and Marshal Tito himself. Preliminary meetings took place here. A communique on the "mutual accord" was announced yesterday from advanced Allied headquarters.

Discussions took place between June 14 and June 17, the communique said. It notably specified that the "new Yugoslav" News Agency had been authorized to issue the communique.

The communique named the conferees as Dr. Subasic, the president of the Yugoslav anti-Fascist Council of Liberation and the National Liberation committee.

DIES OF KNIFE WOUND IN TRY TO SCARE WIFE

CLEVELAND, June 19.—(P)—William H. Holk, 35, died last night of a knife wound police said he inflicted on himself in an effort to frighten his wife, Coroner Devon, who returned a verdict of suicide, said the knife pierced Holk's lung.

CROP INSURANCE PROGRAM BEING REVIVED AGAIN

Politics, However, Is Claiming Major Interest in Capital As Conventions Near

By CLAIR JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(P)—A drive to revive and extend the dying federal crop insurance program gained strong bi-partisan support today, prompting congressional action this session.

Two key figures announced they would back legislation by House Agriculture Committee Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) which would provide for insurance in 1945 on wheat, cotton and flax and allow experimental projects on many other crops.

They were House Appropriations Committee Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.), who successfully led the fight last year to deny funds for the 1944 program, and Rep. Hope (R-Kans.), ranking Republican member of the agriculture committee.

"The new bill specifies the premiums must pay for all the losses, which is practical and business-like," Cannon told a reporter. "That wasn't possible under the old program."

Hope said "the new legislation attempts to correct the matters to which many objected last year. I will support it."

Rep. Cooley (D-NC) asserted "with both of these leaders backing us, it looks like we can get the program approved this session."

Strong opposition still loomed, however. Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) predicted "a heavy battle on the House floor."

The program is handled by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, which was granted just enough funds last year to conduct its own liquidation.

Army Pay Scale

Members of the house military committee today endorsed the general principle of a pay scale to correct inequities that have developed during the present war.

Their thoughts, they said, were prompted by the fact that infantrymen fighting on beachheads throughout the world receive no extra pay for the extra hazard to life and limb, although such bonus pay is given to paratroopers.

MORE TANKS ASKED FOR SINCE INVASION

Expenditures Three Times Expected Rate

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(P)—Reports from the invasion beachhead that expenditures of tanks were three times the expected rate has prompted the military high command to order an "extremely heavy" increase in production.

Military sources said American plants which stopped tank production some months ago must renew tank manufacture. United States tank output was cut more than half after the North African campaign during which American tank destroyers and artillery smashed German armored units.

Huge quantities of steel will be needed for the stepped up production program. Schedules have not yet been fixed and plants to be put back into operation have not been designated.

End Of War This Year Predicted Inferentially

LONDON, June 19.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill, in a speech delivered at the Mexican Embassy four days ago and permitted to be published only today, said the months of this summer may "bring full success to the cause of freedom."

He said the invasion of Normandy was a great tactical surprise to the Germans who did not know it was coming until they saw the ships and "it may be that events will occur in the next few months which will show us whether we are soon to be released of the curse which has been laid upon us by the Germans."

The invasion was launched "in full accord" with the Russians and the decisions reached at Tehran, he added, "and although the execution of the plans adopted there is far from being complete, it is being steadily unrolled, and the months of this summer may by the victories of this Allied campaign."

Reds Surge Ahead As Allied Forces Advance In Italy

Allied forces continued to advance north in Italy against Hitler's battered troops in spite of stiffening resistance while on the other side of his European Fortress the Red army kept surging on through Finland in an equally dangerous threat to Naziland already hard-pressed for men and material to stem the rising tide of invasion from across the English channel.

ROME, June 19.—(P)—French colonial battalions captured Portoferraio and now hold the "great" er part of the island of Elba," headquarters announced today, while on the Italian peninsula mud-spattered Allied troops made gains on both flanks and in the center of their line taking Assisi, birthplace of St. Francis.

Beating down determined German resistance on Elba, the French have rounded up several hundred prisoners, including several high officers, a communique said.

A field dispatch said the French had seized more than two-thirds of Elba.

Before taking Portoferraio, capital on the north coast, the French captured Napoleon's villa. The invading forces brought artillery against the Germans bitterly contesting control of Porto Longone on the east coast.

Fifth and Eighth army troops in Italy are meeting increasing resistance as they drive the Germans back toward the Pisa-Rimini line, but more villages have been taken and strong pressure is being exerted against the stubborn German garrison at the central sector road Hub of Perugia, 85 miles north of Rome and about 72 miles southeast of Florence.

ITALIAN CABINET IS APPROVED BY ALLIES

No Change in Monarchical Institution Asked

ROME, June 19.—(P)—The Allied governments, after delaying a week, have approved the cabinet formed by Premier Ivanoe Bonomi at the request of Prince Umberto, and it now has begun to function as Italy's new government.

The Allies insisted that the new government assume all responsibilities undertaken by the former government headed by Marshal Pietro Badoglio regarding the fulfillment of the terms of the Italian armistice, and make no change in the monarchical institution.

GUARANTEED HOTEL ROOM IS STUDIED BY THE WPB

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(P)—The War Production Board reported today it is studying with hotel men possible means of insuring hotel space for essential travelers.

The Russians' quick success was attributed largely to tremendous artillery barrages which pulverized Finnish positions.

OHIO SAILOR HANGS SELF FROM BILLBOARD IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., June 19.—(P)—The body of a young Ohio sailor was found hanging by his neckerchief from the frame of a display billboard near Tukey Bridge yesterday.

A report filed by police headquarters identified the youth as Orr Leach, 19, seaman first class, USN, of Cleveland, and said medical examiner, William Holt, had returned a finding of suicide.

BIG PORT CITY UNDER SIEGE OF INVASION FORCE

Bitter Fighting Continues in Sectors Farther Inland; Weather Is Handicap

By WES GALLAGHER

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 19.—(P)—The U. S. Ninth Division has crushed a German attempt to burst out of the American trap bottling up perhaps 25,000 to 40,000 Nazis below Cherbourg, hurling back a thrust 13 miles due south of the port, headquarters announced today.

The Germans lashed out in the darkness in a heavy local attack near St. Jacques De Nehou, but were thrown back with heavy losses.

Toward the eastern flank of the 116-mile Normandy front, British forces battled into the northern end of shell-torn Tilly-Sur-Seulles, with the Germans still holding in the southern part of the town between Bayeux and Caen.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's troops, laying siege to Cherbourg after thrusting a seven-mile-wide corridor clear across the peninsula, now are building up strength for "the next step," supreme headquarters said.

Germans Shell Carentan
German guns laid a heavier shell barrage on American-held Carentan, stronghold near the eastern base of Cherbourg peninsula.

Other Americans on the north-eastern end of the line choking off Cherbourg fought toward the port from the Montebourg area, 14 miles to the southeast.

(Berlin radio said U. S. forces had made a "slight advance" in the direction of Valognes, 10 miles southeast of Cherbourg, indicating the German stronghold of Montebourg possibly is being bypassed.)

Local advances were scored on other sectors of the beachhead, headquarters said.

The Americans quickly broadened the corridor flung across Cherbourg peninsula.

The trapped Germans appeared to have the choice of fighting to the death or surrendering.

The spearhead of Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's spectacular drive to capture this big port, developed by Napoleon, was the U. S. Ninth Division. Capture of a French naval base would be an old story for this division, for the Ninth broke through German defenses to take Bizerte, Tunisia, 13 months ago under Maj. Gen. Manton S. Eddy.

Port Is Cut Off

United States forces that severed the peninsula were busy widening their break-through path to the Atlantic coast, which even last night was seven miles wide. They were driving the Germans down toward La Haye Du Puits, big road junction seven miles south of St. Sauveur Le Vicomte, into what appeared to be another trap, for one American trans-peninsula spearhead has been within four miles of La Haye for several days.

If this spearhead takes the town of La Haye, the Germans in that area will be in another pocket—between St. Lo, D'Ouville and the Atlantic coast.

A third American column under Bradley's command struck south of Lisson to within six miles of St. Lo, important rail and highway junction in the Vire River valley, 42 air miles south of Cherbourg.

Americans Tighten Grip On Jap Defense Islands

AS THE BIGGEST naval task force in history battles for the island of Saipan (1), in the Marianas spot, and for Saipan's fine airfields, the importance of this particular spot—some 1465 miles from Tokyo and 1470 from the Philippines—becomes increasingly evident. Quite outside its proximity to the Bonins, located about 600 miles from Japan, which have just been attacked by a big carrier task force, Saipan is reported to have flat areas made to order for big land airbases. Some already are envisioning the giant Superfortresses radiating from Saipan (as arrows show), as well as from China (2) to blast Nippon's big manufacturing areas and slam at the Philippines. Presence of great naval forces there, plus other forces battering at the Bonins, indicate that the big smash is definitely on. The recent capture of Blak (3) off New Guinea provides bases for cracking at areas indicated by arrows. (International)

FIRING SQUAD KILLS SLAYER OF FIVE

Blackbearded Killer Sticks Out Tongue at Warrant

SALT LAKE CITY, June 19.—(P)—Blackbearded Austin Cox forfeited his life before the guns of a Utah firing squad at dawn today as penalty for slaying five persons.

Defiant, the 39-year-old six-foot, four-inch killer refused ministrations of the prison chaplain, shoved Sheriff John R. Watson with his elbows when the peace officer asked him for a last word and stuck out his tongue as the death warrant was read.

Moaning or humming tunelessly Cox spoke not a word from the time he was led from his cell in death row.

ALEXIS SMITH MARRIES CRAIG STEVENS, STAR

GLENDAL, Calif., June 19.—(P)—Blonde Alexis Smith of the screen and actor Craig Stevens were honeymooning at an undisclosed destination today.

They were married yesterday in the Church of St. Reginald in the presence of 300 guests, many of them from the movie colony. The Rev. Stuart P. MacLennan, Presbyterian minister, officiated.

Conquest of both rail lines would give the Japanese a complete north-south line of rail communications, would neutralize some Allied air fields and would facilitate enemy operations against any future American landings on the China coast.

SAIPAN ISLAND STILL SCENE OF FIERCE FIGHTING

More Than Score of Enemy Ships Smashed and Attack By Sea Beaten Back

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 19.—(P)—American soldiers and marines, fighting their way through hot cane fields halfway across Saipan Island in the Marianas after repelling Japanese assaults by tanks and by landing craft, drove down toward the island's principal harbor and naval base at Magicienne Bay today.

Slightly more than 100 miles southward, American warships bombarded Guam heavily for the first time in the war. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in announcing, this former American base had been shelled last Thursday, gave no intention as to whether an invasion was in prospect.

Jap Air Base Hit

Advances Made on Drive To Capture Railway

CHUNGKING, June 19.—(P)—Japanese troops have captured three important Chinese strongholds in their Honan province offensive aimed at clearing the Canton-Nankow railway, and 400 miles to the north in Honan province have made gains along the Peiping-Hankow rail line.

This was announced last night by the Chinese high command, which said Chinese defenders in the by-passed Honan capital of Changsha faced the prospect of seeing their last route of retreat cut.

SEVERAL 'PHONE COMPANIES IN CONSOLIDATION

Grenfield System Included in Purchase Made for $650,000

Many independent telephone companies in various parts of Ohio, including the one at Greenfield, are involved in a purchase amounting to a total of $650,000. The State Public Utilities Commission has authorized the purchase by the Clinton Telephone Co. of Wilmington. Eight systems are involved in the deal. The several companies will be reorganized as the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. Among the companies involved are: The Greenfield Telephone Co., The Buckeye Lake Home Telephone Co., The Cambridge Home Telephone Co., The Convey Telephone Co., The Marion Telephone Co., The New Bremen Telephone Co., The New Concord Telephone Co., and the St. Mary's Telephone Co. Edwin Jury, manager of the Greenfield Company, termed the arrangements a consolidation rather than a purchase. Head offices of the new organization will be moved from Wilmington to Portsmouth next month, it is stated. No change in policy or personnel is anticipated in the various organizations. The new company will retire the purchase cost through the issuance of $800,000 in first mortgage 4 per cent 25-year bonds and 24,520 shares of $25 no-par common. The remaining $150,000 will be used for retirement of $152,000 in outstanding unsecured 6 per cent notes. The company also will issue 20,296 shares of no-par common stock, to be exchanged for 5074 shares of outstanding $100 par value shares at an exchange rate of 4-to-1.

BRICKER GAINS SUPPORT AS DEWEY'S BACKERS HINT HE IS READY TO ACCEPT

next week, Roy D. Moore, Bricker's campaign manager, predicted the Ohioan would win the nomination "on the sixth or seventh ballot." Moore, who told a news conference Bricker is the man who would be most likely to win in November, exuded confidence that seemed to be heightened by some developments. These included an announcement by Sen. Moore (R-Okla.) who heads Oklahoma's 23-vote delegation that he intends to support Bricker. In addition, a member of the West Virginia delegation predicted Bricker would have a majority of that state's votes on the first ballot. Sen. Moore's announcement drew from Lew Wentz, Oklahoma national committeeman, the assertion that a majority of Oklahoma Republicans favored Dewey. Good Impression Talk of an increase in Bricker strength seemed centered upon the fact the Ohio governor has campaigned in all sections of the country and generally has made a good impression. There was talk also that "anti-Dewey factions" were concentrating behind his candidacy. However, Mrs. Simms predicted Dewey would win on the first ballot. She said a personal check convinced her a delegate majority from 14 states west of the Meanwhile, leaders of the Ohio MacArthur for President Club asked followers of the general to support Bricker. Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced several weeks ago he was not a candidate.

Bricker, the club spokesman said in a formal statement, has "demonstrated the same high ideas of Americanism as the famous general."

"Both are midwesterners," the statement added, "undazzled by the glitter and pomposity of the decadent aristocracies of the old world; both are devoted to a deep respect for the traditional American institutions which have made us the world's greatest nation... "Governor Bricker is, today, the only candidate for president who has the courage and confidence in himself to freely and frankly discuss the nation's problems with the people."

The statement was signed by Robert A. Wilkinson of Van Wert, Guy D. Hawley of Greenville and B. A. Mayer of Springfield.

Taft Hits Foreign Policy Meanwhile, at Bethany, W. Va., where he was addressing the graduating class of Bethany College, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio declared Americans are fighting for freedom rather than an ideology.

"We cannot assure freedom of speech and freedom of religion in Russia for instance, unless we are prepared to fight the rest of our lives," said Taft, who was awarded an honorary doctor of law degree during graduation ceremonies.

"We can hardly be fighting for democracy when so many of our Allies—China, Russia and Brazil—are dictatorships without even the semblance of election machinery."

"The effect of the Teheran conference was to accelerate the drift towards a controlled world by the three great nations, which has affected the thinking of this country for some time. I do not believe that is the way to carry out our war purpose."

He added that the nation must sooner or later decide whether it would "enter a real association of equals sovereign nations" and maintain peace by cooperation and a joint use of force, or whether it would return to the balance of power idea and make a military alliance with England or Russia.

"As I see it today," the Ohio senator asserted, "Mr. Roosevelt's is another, and Mr. Willkie's is a third. If you will analyze the facts, the old difference between internationalists and isolationists has disappeared, in spite of a lot of propaganda which seems to interest itself only in involving the United States in international affairs regardless of the method or effectiveness of that method to secure the peace."

Another Ohioan, Capt. Frederick William Helfer of Hiram was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree.

members of the air corps, and crewmen on submarines.

Legislation to boost by a maximum of $10 the monthly pay of foot-soldiers is under consideration by the committee, with War Department backing, and may be reported to the house tomorrow.

Interest in Politics It's get-away week for the legislators on Capitol Hill. A recess is planned from Friday night through the political conventions, although Congress faces a full schedule of hard work to clean up pending bills before quitting.

And several of the measures before the lawmakers are of such controversial nature a deadlock could occur, interfering with recess plans. A new threat which kept members watching the clock was a Senate row over continuation of the fair employment practices committee.

The House has voted FEPC $500,000 to carry out the presidentially-assigned task of trying to settle disputes over racial discrimination. Today, however, substantial Republican support was lining up behind southern Democratic senators in an effort to abolish the agency.

If enough Republicans go along to let southern Democrats win their point, a Senate-House committee would have to try to work out a compromise on the future of FEPC.

G. I. Bill of Rights

Less than a week after passage by Congress of the GI Bill of Rights, Senator Murray (D. Mont.) today introduced a bill to liberalize its unemployment insurance allowances for jobless veterans.

The GI bill, now awaiting President Roosevelt's signature, allows unemployment insurance at the rate of $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks in the first two years after discharge. The Murray bill would allow an additional $5 a week for each dependent of an unemployed service man, up to a maximum of $35 weekly.

Senator Murray's amendment also would eliminate the requirement of the GI bill that a service man must have been in the armed forces at least 10 months to be eligible for the full 52 weeks of insurance. He said the veterans' economic lives would be dislocated no matter how long they were in uniform.

Non-War Production

Ladies: How are your pots and pans, irons and pressure cookers holding up since aluminum and other metals went to war? And dad: How's your razor? Do you need parts to keep the family car running?

A committee headed by Senator Truman (D-Mo) contends there are idle plants available where these items could be manufactured, without interfering with war production. It is conceded that production of automobiles, radios and electric refrigerators is out for the time being.

The committee opened an inquiry today after demanding the removal of all government restraints on civilian production which can utilize surplus materials, unskilled workers and idle plants. Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board was called as the first witness.

Scientific High Command

Ideas and machines which will work for peace just as tools of destruction are working for war are the goal of a scientific high command organizing this week. The idea is for representatives of the Army and Navy, the War Production Board and leading scientists to start working now for post-war security.

FATE OF NAZIS SEALED IN CHERBOURG AS PORT CITY CUT OFF BY YANKS

Almost all the advances on the Normandy beachhead reported today by supreme headquarters were on the American side except at Tilly-sur-Seuilles, 11 miles west of Caen, where a British division broke through German defenses in a small breach and was fighting in the streets of Tilly.

All along the rest of the beachhead front there were brisk small actions as Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, Allied ground commander, built up his forces for a typical "Monty" punch backed up by thousands of big guns.

Beach areas were quiet, with the wind at "force two," and unloading of men and materiel proceeded at a rapid rate.

On the beachhead side the German air force virtually had disappeared, which might be an indication that Marshal Erwin Rommel was conserving his forces for an all-out attack.

German troops in the Cherbourg area are not of the highest quality, and they have been using many horse drawn guns, many of which have been knocked out by Allied strafing planes.

Strong Defense

The Germans have a strong perimeter defense around Cherbourg and undoubtedly Hitler's orders will be to hold on to the last. There is no chance for the German garrison to escape, since the Allies control all sea and air routes.

The German-held channel islands, which have too many heavy guns, may give the Allied western flank a good deal of trouble, but so far American and British battleships have been able to deal with any coastal defenses encountered. For example, the troublesome German battery at Houlegate, east of Ouistreham and the mouth of the Orne River, was believed silenced by the British battleship Ramillies. It was one of the few German batteries left that could rake the invasion beaches.

"Desert Rats" Ready

It was disclosed today that on the eastern end of the beachhead Montgomery has under his command the British Seventh Armored Division, famed as the "Juba" or "Desert Rat" division.

"Monty" apparently was biding his time, as always, to launch an all-out blow to beat a way out of the beachhead and into the open country of France.

There was no E-boat or U-boat activity reported, and the great invasion armadas sent an unending stream of supplies to the beachhead without interruption.

BUILDINGS SWAY AS CALIFORNIA QUAKES

Los Angeles Area Center of Two Jolts

LOS ANGELES, June 19.—(AP)—Downtown buildings swayed, residences trembled, burglar alarms were set off and many persons fled into the streets as two earthquakes jolted Los Angeles and nearby cities yesterday. Two lighter quakes were felt early today in communities just south of here.

The shocks yesterday were the strongest since those of March 10, 1933, when 121 persons were killed and property damage of $75,000,000 caused in Compton, Long Beach and Los Angeles.

There was no material damage reported from the shocks, the first recorded at 5:03 P. M. and the second at 8:05 P. M. Three women watching baccalaureate services in the South Gate High School fainted during the first shock.

the peninsula near Barneville-Sur-Mer—just as the Allied command planned it.

The Nazi 77th Division sought determinedly to break out—and was cut to pieces by American assault forces.

Thus today the Allies held an ever firmer bridgehead in France—an area approximately as big as Rhode Island in a country the size of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois combined.

Further, the strategically vital Cherbourg peninsula was one-third clear, with an almost certain prospect for its complete occupation. This would give the Allies necessary freedom of maneuver, and build-up of supply, with Berlin the ultimate goal.

And even yet the Allies had not shown their real strength. Their accomplishments thus far had been achieved with no real sea beach, but had been fed from a base by an almost incredible cross-channel shuttle of every available craft.

ROOF NOW

MANY people have found out that it didn't pay to wait until the roof leaked. They waited and waited—not knowing that rains were rotting the roof timbers by getting through the roof. Although they could see no leaks, the rain was seeping slowly down the rafters and every rain brought the danger point closer to the ceiling line. Then one day a heavy rain came and before anything could be done, some plaster fell and a rug and chair were rained-spotted. It cost money to repair this damage. A new roof put on in time would have saved that money.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.

(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
The fateful fortnight which has encompassed Allied plans and fears for more than two years ends tonight and the Germans have failed to mount either the beachhead defense or the massive counter-attack which had been expected.

As a matter of fact, a comparatively small Allied initial force, harassed by unseasonably bad weather which interferes with both reinforcement and supply, has engaged approximately one-fourth of the estimated German strength in France and found it only a hindrance.

To be sure, undue optimism is never proper when dealing with the Reichswehr. You can be sure that it has been busily repairing road blocks and bridges swept by the pre-invasion aerial hurricane of the Allies. Paris is a hundred miles away, we have been only preparing to go there, and there may be Cassinos on the way.

But as the fortnight ends during which we expected to learn whether the beachhead would be secure, we do learn, and it is. Not only that, but the campaign for the great port, through which reinforcements can flow by the tens of thousands rather than the hundreds and thousands possible on the open beach, moves, truly according to plan. Word from the Cherbourg Peninsula is that the Americans crossed to the western shore through the very points, along the very country roads, as envisaged long ago in the offices of the planners.

There may not be any refugees from Sevastopol—there weren't many, anyway—at Cherbourg, but there are 25,000 to 30,000 Germans there, the reports say, who are about to learn the same lesson. The fate of the German 77th Division, which battered itself into small pieces against the American line in an effort to escape, is sufficient harbinger of that. The Germans will make every effort to spoil Cherbourg. But Naples was proof of what the Allies are prepared to do with quick repairs. Soon a great army, flanked on each side and sheltered overhead by dominant sea and air support, will be forming in the peninsula for the real drive into Hitler's domains. And Von Rundstedt, if he hopes to stop it, will have to produce something more formidable than he has shown so far, including his "scattergun" rocket bombs.

MERCURY STOPS AT JUNE RECORD OF 100 DEGREES

Saturday and Sunday Two Of Most Uncomfortable Days in Years

Sunday, with an official reading of 100 degrees, was not only the hottest day of the season and one of the hottest days in years, but so far as known was the hottest June 18th on record here.

Saturday, with unusual humidity, was also one of the most uncomfortable days in years, and the peak temperature for Saturday was 96.5 degrees, according to U. S. Weather Observer, Chalmers Burns, who is in charge of the weather observing equipment for this district, and has his equipment located at his home on Leesburg Avenue.

Not only was the humidity and heat Saturday very disturbing, but Saturday night was one of the most disagreeable by reason of combined heat and humidity, in many years.

While Sunday's heat was intense and there was a great deal of humidity, cooler weather arrived early in the night, and sometime after midnight cooling breezes brought relief to sleepless citizens who had been losing much sleep and rest during recent nights, on account of the heat.

Buildings generally were so thoroughly saturated with the intense heat that it was difficult to find a cool spot for rest.

Sunday had a minimum of 72 degrees, and the reading was still 81 at 9 P. M., while Monday at 8 A. M. the reading was 80 degrees, or two degrees below the reading at the same hour Saturday.

The cool breezes were continuing Monday, with indications that thundershowers might bring cooler weather late in the day.

Some unbelievable temperatures were recorded by thermometers exposed to the sun, Sunday afternoon, and in some instances the mercury expansion was so great that the tubes were broken.

The intense heat is causing wheat to ripen rapidly but it is believed that the crop was so far matured that the heat will not cause any extensive damage to the grain.

The state generally sweltered again Monday with scant prospect of relief from heat which yesterday set a record high in the state for June 18.

Several prostrations were re-

Youth Reported Missing Writes From Nazi Prison

The 19-year-old American Ranger is now a German prisoner of war. He had been reported missing by the War Department since January 30. He wrote his parents from the prison camp: "I am fine, nothing to worry about and am working on a farm."

Pfc. Harris was stationed in Italy and was believed to have been with an outfit that was ported and at least two persons drowned as bathers flocked to streams and beaches over the weekend.

Drowning victims were Paul Blevins, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blevins of West Middletown, Butler County, in the Great Miami River, and Mrs. Goldie Branan, 19, of Ada in a quarry at Dunkirk, about ten miles east of Ada.

The new record was set at Wilmington where Weather Observer Ethel Hayes recorded the temperature at 101 1-2 degrees at 2 P. M. The previous all-time high for the month was 101 recorded June 28, 1934.

Readings of from 15 to 18 degrees above normal temperature were reported over the state, many of them surpassing the highs of the unseasonable June of 1888.

Port Columbus listed a 99-degree temperature, four above the 1888 high for the capital city and 15 degrees above the normal for June 18. Official readings yesterday included: Cincinnati 99.8, Dayton 98, Toledo and Cleveland 96, Lima 95 and Findlay 94.

wiped out on the Anzio Beachhead early this year. The parents of the Highland County soldier first learned that he was missing in action on March 16. They have not been notified by the War Department that their son is a German captive.

weather still was hampering air operations.

Germany's rocket bomb assaults on southern England continued for the fifth successive day as a number of the fire-spitting, jet-propelled robot planes zoomed across the coast just after day-break.

Intermittent activity was reported over the same area during the night, with some resultant casualties and damage, though the attacks did not seem as heavy as the previous night.

The element of newness attached to Hitler's latest "secret weapon" was wearing off rapidly, however, and British defenses against these "blind bombers" were taking shape.

All over southern England large reinforcements of anti-aircraft guns are being moved to special spots in efforts to explode the rocket bombs in the air as near the coast as possible.

Good visibility since the Germans unveiled their weapon last Thursday has made it possible to pin-point the launching grounds, generally believed to be in the Pas De Calais area.

It now appears the robots are two types. The smaller has a speed of 200 to 230 miles an hour, while the other with larger wing span travels perhaps 400 miles per hour and has greater explosive power.

The Germans toned down their claims in the past 24 hours, perhaps fearful lest their whopped up propaganda concerning the effectiveness of the robot planes might backfire.

Fighter-bombers blasted to pieces one concentration of several hundred Germans. Col. Donald Blakeslee's U. S. Mustang group saw what looked like a procession of citizens out for a ride in horse shays, but when the pilots "buzzed" the cavalcade for a closer look German soldiers dived for cover. The ammunition-loaded "shays" were sent up in a string of firecracker explosions while horses scampered across the fields.

More than 1,300 American heavy bombers hammered oil refineries and storage plants in the Hamburg area and three enemy airdromes in northwest Germany yesterday, while 250 other heavy bombers pounded the Pas De Calais area.

French toast topped with syrup or fruit sauce will make a good dessert for Sunday night supper.

Make Candidates Show Color

It is time for the citizens of the United States to realize they are approaching one of the most critical national elections in the history of our nation. Basic principles are involved which affect the continuation of our constitutional form of government. They are in no way connected with Republican or Democratic partisan issues. The war our boys are fighting is non-partisan, for the purpose of enlarging liberty and opportunity for all the peoples of the world.

For more than a decade, politicians here on the home front have been promoting so-called "emergency measures" which have bit by bit been restricting the individual in many phases of his daily life. The necessities of war accelerated this movement, and now it is becoming more evident each day that many bureaucrats in both parties, who have gained a liking for government controls exercised over the individual, are "processing" the people through publicity and propaganda to extend centralized government control permanently or as far as possible into the postwar era.

Anyone who wants to read, can see a deadly parallel between this sugar-coated process and the one which engulfed European peoples and made them slaves to an official aristocracy. How often do you hear a candidate for political office come out and unequivocally praise the United States, its constitutional form of government, the liberties its people enjoy, the luxuries and necessities that have been delivered to them by our industries in a measure exceeding that enjoyed by any other nation? Too many candidates for public office assume that our philosophy of government and private enterprise have outlived their usefulness; that they must be curbed, changed and controlled; that government must become the dominant factor in our daily lives and that we must ape the teachings of some foreign nation that has brought nothing but misery and disaster to its people.

This process must be reversed. The people must demand men in public office who are proud of the American system. Men who do not give it lip service one minute and in the next breath propose measures that would restrict individual opportunity.

The United States was built on the principle of a government being best which governs least; on the principle that public officials are the servants, not the masters of the people; on the principle that government confine itself to the functions of governing and not enter into activities which compete with the livelihood of the citizens which it taxes. These are basic ideals. They are what our boys are fighting for. Labor loses its independence when government goes into business. The business man loses his independence. The boy in school loses his future opportunity. When the government becomes the master, the people become the slaves.

These are fundamental issues on which every candidate for public office on any party ticket should be forced to express

If your financial condition has improved, conserve resources; leave speculative concerns severely alone. Deception in love or friendship is threatened. Neither court nor marry in the next year. himself. In a hundred ways, warning flags are flying to arouse our people to the inroads that are being attempted on American liberty. As war measures, we will accept any hardships and restrictions necessary to bring victory. But now, as never before, we must safeguard our future by rejecting proposals and candidates that insidiously undermine the ground on which individual liberty and opportunity stand in this nation. You can't accept state socialism, even in small doses, and retain your independence. In the coming postwar era, our people must be the master, not the servants of our government. Never in our history was this issue of such paramount importance as in the coming election.

Useful Play

It was once said that Britain was saved upon the playing fields of Eton and Harrow, meaning that healthful outdoor exercise had given her young men the stamina necessary to win a war. If that is true of cricket, which is regarded by Americans as a rather "sissy" game, lacking in energy and toughness, what about our own athletic preparation for this war?

Certainly it is the roughest, toughest war in our history. And a good deal of the toughness that our men are showing by land, air and sea now comes from our own favorite games—baseball and football. The former sport particularly has gone into the American character. Our boys everywhere grow up on baseball, which develops more agility and resourcefulness than any other sport. And our football produces strength and teamwork such as dwarfs British football in comparison.

This comment is not meant as a criticism of our English and Canadian allies, for in some other respects they are more athletic than we are. Walking, for example. And on the whole, the British probably keep themselves in better condition than we do. But we seem to excel generally in the quickness, daring and resourcefulness shown by our games.

Finding Dyspepsia Cause

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

THE TERM "dyspepsia" denotes not a diagnosis, but a group of symptoms related to digestion for which a cause or more usually a group of causes must be sought by the scientific physician. The symptom groups may mask a major disease, such as tuberculosis, anemia or gallbladder infection. Only after all such possibilities have been eliminated is the diagnosis justified in calling the case of indigestion before him minor or functional.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The symptoms described by the dyspeptic are in the order of frequency—fullness in the stomach or bowel region, in the vulgar called bloating, then belching and flatulence and gassy accumulation feeling generally, then heartburn or acid eruptions into the mouth, anorexia, or absence of appetite and least frequent of all, nausea and vomiting.

Now all of these symptoms are primarily reflex. A reflex is an impulse that originates at some point of irritability and goes through the nervous system and is there relayed to some system of organs and there interpreted as a symptom indicating to the subject a disorder of the system of organs that is exhibiting the symptom.

Symptoms Commonly Exhibited

The systems of organs which most commonly exhibit symptoms are the muscular system producing the symptom fatigue, the heart and circulatory system producing the symptoms of palpitation or breathlessness and the digestive system producing dyspepsia. Such symptoms presented to the astute diagnostician are merely an indication to him that he must find the real trouble, the point of irritation behind the symptom.

Most often in the case of dyspepsia it is not exactly a disease such as gallstones, but a maladjustment or frustration in life. A fellow wants to paint like Rembrandt, but has to be content with interior decorating. Or a girl would like to write a great novel, but all she attains is writing up the household accounts. Or he yearns for a divine creature named Gull-ever, but he gets one named Piety, or she visualizes life with Gary Cooper, but has to spend it with Albert, the popular insurance salesman. We can't all write a Gone With The Wind, but we can all take pepsin tablets. We can't all be geniuses, but we can all be dyspeptics. That is why it is so common.

Treatment By Psychotherapy

It is not remarkable then that in the great army of dyspeptics there are so many of these dispirited, dreaming, impractical people. Thank heaven for the great army of plodding, unimaginative, hefters of wood and drawers of water, those who cheerfully do the leg work of the world, who can eat anything, who are proud of their stomachs and bowels, or who never knew they had a stomach, those who think that soda is used only in baking, and believe Casaca is a town in Italy that Montgomery's Eighth Army just failed to take.

If these considerations are true it would seem inevitable that the first and most important method of treatment for functional dyspepsia is psychotherapy. It need not be an elaborate Freudian psychoanalysis, in fact better not be, but can consist of simple explanation. Much of an internist's time is spent convincing some unhappy individuals that just because they are full of gas it doesn't mean they are going to float up to heaven.

Take the symptom of heart burn. It is caused by the hydrochloric acid in the stomach regurgitating into the esophagus. There is probably immediately behind it an increased secretion of the normal hydrochloric acid in the stomach and the secretion of hydrochloric acid is controlled by nervous impulses. So then, what have been the unusual nervous impulses in your life lately that caused this secretion? By talking things out in this way many dyspeptic symptoms calm down.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

In that long dreary body of testimony calculated to prove Jim Haight's sole Opportunity, the only colorful spots were provided by Judge Eli Martin in cross-examination.

From the first the old lawyer's plan was plain to Ellery: to cast doubt . . . insinuate, imply . . .

"But you can't be sure?"
"You didn't have the defendant under observation every moment?"
"Of course not!"
"The defendant might have laid the tray of cocktails down for a moment or so?"
"No."

"Are you positive?"
Prosecutor Bradford quietly objected: the question was answered. Sustained. Judge Newbold waves his hand patiently.

"Did you see the defendant prepare the cocktails?"
"No."

"Were you in the living room all the time?"

"You know I was!" This was Frank Lloyd; and he was angry. To Lloyd, Judge Martin paid special attention. The old gentleman worried out of the witness his relationship with the Wright family—that he had been in love with the accused's wife, that he had been bitter when she turned him down for James Haight, that he had threatened the latter with bodily violence . . . Objection, objection, objection . . . But the old lawyer situation managed to come out, enough of it to reawaken in the jury's minds the whole story of Frank Lloyd and Nora Wright.

All of which helped to create a doubt. The vengeful jilted "other" man. Who knows? Maybe—

With the Wright family, who took the stand to testify to the actual events of the night, Judge Martin was impersonal—and cast more doubts. Nobody actually saw Jim Haight drop arsenic into the cocktail. Nobody could be sure . . .

But the prosecutor's case proceeded and, despite Judge Martin's wily objections, Bradford established: that Jim alone mixed the cocktails; that Jim was the only one who could have been certain the poisoned cocktail went to Nora, his intended victim, since he handed each drinker his or her cocktail; that Jim pressed Nora to drink when she was reluctant.

And there was the testimony of old Wentworth, who had been the attorney for John F.'s father and had drawn the latter's will. Wentworth testified that on Nora's marriage she received her grandfather's bequest of a hundred thousand dollars, held in trust for her until that "happy" event.

And the testimony of the five handwriting experts, who agreed unanimously that the three unmailed letters addressed to Rosemary Haight—dated Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's—were in the accused's handwriting.

Then came Alberta Manaskas. It was through this servant that Carter Bradford brought out how, as the first letter had predicted, Nora took sick on Thanksgiving Day; how Nora had another, and worse, attack of "sickness" on Christmas Day. Alberta went into detail about these "sicknesses."

Dr. Milo Willoughby's testimony, confirmed by the testimony of Coroner Salemon and the testimony of L. D. ("Whitey") Magill, State Chemist, established that the toxic agent which had made Nora Haight ill, and caused the death of Rosemary Haight, was commonly known as white arsenic.

Then Prosecutor Bradford calls to the stand Myron Garback, proprietor of the High Village Pharmacy, Wrightsville. He testifies that "sometime during the previous October," James Haight had entered the pharmacy and asked for "a small tin of Quicks."

Q—What exactly is Quicks?
A—It is a preparation used for killing rodents and insect pests.

Q—What is the lethal ingredient of Quicks?
A—Arsenic trioxide.

Q—In highly concentrated form?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Did you sell the defendant a tin of this poisonous preparation?

A—Yes, sir. It is a commercial preparation, requiring no prescription.

Q—Did the defendant ever return to purchase more Quicks?

A—Yes, sir, about two weeks later. He said he'd mislaid the can of stuff, so he'd have to buy a new can. I sold him a new can.

Q—What did the defendant say to you, and what did you say to the defendant, on the occasion of his first purchase?

A—Mr. Haight said there were mice in his house. I said I was surprised, because I'd never heard of house mice up on the Hill. He didn't say anything to that.

Cross-examination by Judge Eli Martin:—

Q—Mr. Garback, how many tins of Quicks would you estimate you sold during the month of October last?

A—That's hard to answer. A lot.

Q—Twenty-five? Fifty?

A—Somewhere around there.

Q—Then it's not unusual for customers to buy this poisonous preparation?

A—No, sir, not unusual at all.

Q—Then how is it you remembered that Mr. Haight purchased some—remembered it for five months?

A—It just stuck in my mind. Maybe because he bought two tins so closely together.

Q—You're positive it was two cans, two weeks apart?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Mr. Garback, do you keep records of your Quicks sales, listed by customer?

A—I don't have to, Judge. It's legal to sell—

Q—Answer the question, Mr. Garback: Have you a written record of James Haight's alleged purchases of Quicks?

A—No, sir, but—

Q—Then we just have your word, relying on your memory of two incidents you allege to have occurred five months ago, that the defendant purchased Quicks from you?

Prosecutor Bradford: Your Honor, the witness is under oath. He has answered Counsel's question not once, but several times. Objection.

Judge Newbold: Sustained. It seems to me witness has answered.

Eli Martin: That's all, thank you, Mr. Garback.

Alberta Manaskas is recalled to the stand. Quoted by Mr. Bradford, she testifies that she "never seen no rats or mice in Miss Nora's house." She further testifies that she "never seen no rat-killer, neither."

On cross-examination, Judge Martin asks Albert if it is not true that in the tool chest in the cellar of the Haight house there is a large rat trap.

A—Is there?

Q—That's what I'm asking you, Albert.

A—I guess there is, at that.

Q—If there are no rats, Albert, why do you suppose the Haight kept a rat trap?

Prosecutor Bradford: Objection. Calling for opinion.

Judge Newbold: Sustained. Counsel, I'll have to ask you to restrict your cross-examination to—

Judge Martin (humbly): Yes, Your Honor.

Emmeline DuPré testifies that she is a dramatic and dancing teacher residing "right next door to Nora Wright's house." During the previous November and December she "happened to overhear" frequent quarrels between Nora and James Haight. The quarrels were about Mr. Haight's heavy drinking and numerous demands for money. There was one markedly violent quarrel, in December, when Miss DuPré heard Nora Haight refuse to give her husband "any more money." Did Miss DuPré "happen to overhear" anything to indicate why the defendant needed so much money?

A—That's what shocked me so, Mr. Bradford—

Q—The Court is not interested in your emotional reactions, Miss DuPré. Answer the question, please.

A—Jim Haight admitted he'd been gambling, and losing plenty, and that's why he needed money.

Q—Was any name or place mentioned by either Mr. or Mrs. Haight in connection with the defendant's gambling?

A—Jim Haight said he'd been losing a lot at the Hot Spot on Route 16—

On cross-examination, Judge Martin reduces Miss DuPré to indignant tears. He brings out that she crouched by her bedroom window in darkness listening to the voices floating warmly across the driveway between her house and the Haight's—confuses her in the matter of dates and times involved, so that she clearly contradicts herself several times.

The spectators enjoy themselves.

Then J. P. Simpson, proprietor of Simpson's Pawnshop, testifies that in November and December last James Haight pledged various items of jewelry at Simpson's Pawnshop.

Q—What kind of jewelry?

A—First one was a man's gold watch—he took it off his chain to pawn it.

Q—Is this the watch?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Will you read the inscription on the watch, Mr. Simpson?

A—"To Jim—from Nora."

Q—What else did the defendant pawn?

A—Gold and platinum rings, a cameo brooch, and so on.

Q—Do you recognize these items of jewelry I now show you, Mr. Simpson?

A—Yes, sir. They're the ones he pawned with me.

Q—These last items are all women's jewelry, are they not?

A—That's right.

Q—Read the various inscriptions. Aloud.

A—"N.W."—"N.W."—"N.W.H."—"N.W."

Nora's jewelry is placed in evidence.

Q—One last question, Mr. Simpson. Did the defendant ever redeem any of the objects he pawned with you?

A—No, sir.

Judge Martin waives cross-examination.

Parade of the Oscars in Movieland

By HARRY WARREN

(The co-winner with Mack Gordon of the Academy Award for "best song" —"You'll Never Know" from "Hello, Frisco, Hello!"—writes today for Robt. M. Coons.)

HOLLYWOOD—Thanks for this chance, Robbin. Maybe now my partner, Mack Gordon, will believe I can write words as well as music.

I have been a composer of popular music for 22 years. I mean I have been a composer of music—the first two years it wasn't very popular. After all these years I believe that people have only one question to ask a song-writer—to his face, I mean: Which is written first, the words or the music? (Other questions maybe they'd like to ask: "From whom are you stealing this season?" and "Who ever told you you could write music?"

When I got it, I'd always say, "It all depends." But if you think that this sincere attempt to answer was appreciated you're singing in the wrong key. I've learned my lesson. Now I merely beam benignly and say, "I'm very glad you asked me that." That's all I say. After all, I'd rather confuse 'em than disgust 'em.

Now I'll try to explain in detail. Asking a songwriter that question is like asking a hen which came first, the chicken or the egg. It's not that we, song-writers and hens, are being cagey. It's just that, in most cases, we simply don't know. So closely are the words and music interwoven that many times it is impossible to tell which member of the team had the initial inspiration.

When you are assigned to a movie or a Broadway show you have to write songs which are an integral part of the plot. On the other hand, if you are writing on your own time your music is usually inspirational since it is the result of a mood of the moment. That's why Mack Gordon and I are particularly proud of "You'll Never Know." It grew out of something we both felt pretty strongly.

We had been talking about the war and the number of men who were leaving their mothers, wives and sweethearts behind. The song was the result. When Producer William Perlberg called us that afternoon with a request for a song for Alice Faye to sing after John Payne had left her for someone else, we felt we had the song for him and as it turned out, I guess we did.

Naturally I'm pleased with the tune, but I know that the song would never have come to life if Mack had not written the lyrics which so perfectly fit it. The title and lyrics of a song finally determine its emotional direction, be it ballad, swing, or a comedy novelty number. The tune supplies the mood; the title and lyrics clarify that mood and give it strength of purpose.

LILA LEE

Lila Lee, I give acclaim To the music of your name; Like a bell note, sweet and clear, It is pleasing to the ear; And my errant pulse beats time As my fancy turns to rhyme, In plethoric rhapsody Of your name, O, Lila Lee.

Lila Lee, you may consign This archaic verse of mine To the swift, consuming flame, But your melodizing name Still will echo and resound My encircling world around; Fit for worthier minstrelsy, Is your name, O, Lila Lee.

Lila Lee, my lips repeat O'er and o'er, your name so sweet; Silly piffle, I'll admit, And perchance o'erdone a bit; But it is a poet's way To embellish things they say; Nevertheless, your name to me Is melodious, Lila Lee.

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(P)—Minor chords—or some of the dizzy things that actually have taken place in minor league baseball this season:

Never Too Late

At Rochester, N. Y., recently the Red Wings had runners on first and third with one out against Syracuse. . . When the next batsman filed out, the guy on third galloped home easily, and the throw to the plate was cut off because there was no chance to catch him. But the man on first wandered too far and was caught, apparently ending the inning. . . Rochester already had started infield warmups when Dutch Mele raced in from right field and started a mysterious series of confabs. . . Infielder Chico Rodriguez was called from the bench, and he tried to get the ball from a couple of Rochester players, who would not give it up. Finally Mele secured another ball from the plate umpire and tossed it to Rodriguez, who stepped on third base. . . Only then did ump Roy Van Graflan break his dignified silence to below: "Yer out." . . It seems that only Mele and Van Graflan had seen the runner leave third before the catch, and the ump couldn't say anything till a play had been made.

Fair And Warmup

Charles (Red) Lucas, former Cincinnati and Pittsburgh flinger, now is pinch-hitter, relief pitcher and general handy man for the Nashville Vols of the Southern Association. . . Not long ago Red was called upon to pinch hit for the Vols' pitcher against New Orleans and singled. That touched off a seven-run rally, so Lucas came up again. This time he walked, and was moved to second by another hit. . . Just then Manager Fresco Thompson decided it was time to summon his mound ace, Jesse Danna. . . Since Lucas was scheduled to take over Nashville's mound duties, Manager Larry Gilbert dispatched a courier to second with a glove and ball, and sent catcher Al Leitz down to third. . . And while Danna warmed up in the box, Lucas stood on second and fired his own warmup pitches to Leitz.

13 Under Par Required To Win Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 19.—(P)—Par golf just isn't good enough any more.

Three years ago, at Fort Worth, Texas, Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., was three over par figures for 72 holes, but won the last National Open Golf championship.

In the Red Cross Open at Wykagyl, which closed yesterday, Wood was one under par for 72 holes, and finished seventh at 287. Vic Ghezzi, the army sergeant from Deal, N. J., was nine under par at 279—and could do no better than second.

Byron Nelson, the tall Texan now playing from Toledo, tore the rugged par-72 layout apart with successive rounds of 69-69-66 and 71 to take down the $2,666.65 first prize with a 275 total—13 strokes fewer than the card said he should have taken.

And he was 13 under par, despite eight holes on which he slipped over for bogies. He made up that deficit with 19 birdies and a screaming eagle. The eagle came on the 487-yard ninth hole, which he reached with a wood and a No. 2 iron, and then holed a 10-foot putt.

The victory ran Nelson's winnings for the year to $14,341, just behind Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia who has profited by $15,100 in War Bonds and stamps.

Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., finished third in the Wykagyl Classic with 284, and Gene Sarazen of Darien, Conn., twice winner of the National Open, was fourth with 285.

Brewer Lead Stretched by Double Win

By JERRY LISKA

(By the Associated Press)

The Milwaukee Brewers widened their American Association lead to six games Sunday with a double triumph over Louisville while second-place Columbus divided with Minneapolis, but if any bow could be taken during yesterday's eight-game program it was due Toledo's rampaging Mud Hens.

The brood swept a brace from St. Paul, 9-4 and 7-3, to climb over Louisville into third place with their fifth and sixth straight wins for a record of nine victories in their last 11 starts.

Aiding Toledo's cause, the pace-setting Brewers humbled the Colonels, 11-8 and 7-4, to dump the losers into fourth place a full game behind the Mud Hens. The Red Birds, now holding second spot only two games ahead of Toledo, dropped the opener to the visiting Millers, 3-2, but then copped the finale, 8-4.

In the fourth Sabbath bargain bill, Kansas City and Indianapolis split at Indianapolis to keep the Association cellar picture unchanged. The Indians briefly emerged from the basement with a 7-1 opening win, but then the Blues regained seventh place with an 8-2 nightcap decision.

Tribute Proposed For H.R. Townsend

COLUMBUS, O., June 19.—(P)—

Establishment of a permanent memorial to H. R. Townsend, commissioner of the High School Athletic Association who died last week, was proposed today.

Edgar C. Barker, secretary of the Ohio Association of Track Coaches, suggested that all athletic associations in Ohio set up a memorial award of a cup each year to the coach, high school representative or athlete who contributed the most to the development of Ohio High School Athletics.

19th Hole At Country Club

Interest in golf is on the increase in Washington C. H.

As evidenced by the new names on the club membership roll.

Among the many recent newcomers are Mrs. Emerson Ludwick, Mrs. Dwight Coffman, Donald Murdock, Mrs. Eva Klein, Mrs. Ann Alton, Mrs. W. H. Brown, Mrs. Florence Preston, Mrs. James Ford, Mrs. Howard Wright, James Grinstead and Max Thomas. Many of them are taking lessons from the pro, Tony Capuana.

Scribbles from the pro's notebook: Chuck Dunton had two very good rounds in one day—his cards showed 37 and 39.

Major John Cunningham, a veteran of the air war against the Japs in the far Pacific area and modest wearer of several medals awarded for distinguished service, relaxed in several rounds of golf Sunday with Robert A. Craig.

The pro has received a new stock of light golf bags, the kind most golfers prefer now that they have to carry their own because of the caddy shortage.

The first eagle of the season, a 3 on the par 5 No. 4 hole, was turned in by Capuana.

A regular Sunday twosome is Bob Craig and Loring Brock, Jr. Frank Brown and Howard (Dink) Dellinger had better hurry up and play their match for the days soon will be getting shorter.

Regular family foursome is Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Reigel and A. B. Murray and his daughter, Miss Janice. Mrs. Murray waits for them in the shade of one of the big oak trees near the club house.

Ed Hunt is developing a new threat to his old rivals, Glenn Rodgers and Earl Parker. He is perfecting a new grip.

Miss Clara Story and Mrs. Ann Alton are regular week day afternoon golfers.

They have a new nickname for Walter Jones—it's "mashie-putter" because he usually plays with these two clubs and does all right, too.

Best scores of the week: Stanley Hagerty 37, Charles Dunton 37, O. D. Farquhar 37, John Hagerty 39, Glen Roseboom 40, Glenn Bright 45, Ed Cunningham 38, Ralph Hickman 50, Ed Hunt 44, Marilyn Riley 43, L. W. Turner 44, O. M. Reigel 47, A. B. Murray 52, W. F. Rettig 44 and Frank Jackson 43.

Tony has a conservation scheme he has put to use. A golf ball is attached to a small chain, which is attached to a pole. When the ball is hit, it wraps the chain around the pole, thus saving time in chasing balls as well as balls lost on wild shots. He says the new contraption provides very good practice.

Eagles Win Double Bill Here Sunday

The Eagle baseball team stretched its wings Sunday afternoon with a 23-hit barrage against London and Asheville in a double-feature at Wilson Field.

Allen and Wilbur Dumford, brother pitching stars, came through with the wins. Allen won the opener against London 9 to 4, allowing only two hits. Wilbur hurled a three-hit game against Asheville in the nightcap for a 22-3 victory.

The Eagle lineup in the first game was Red Kimball, 3b; Skeet Mann, 2b; Edward Hoskins, 1b; Loring Harrop, cf; Kermit Hunter, if; Wendell McKinney, ss; Paul Chaffin, jr., rf; Harold Gorman, c; and Allen Dumford, p.

Virtually the same lineup came through in the second game. Charley Moore replaced Hoskins at first base while Mann and Kimball formed the backstop with Wilbur Dumford pitching. Alex Wackman relieved Dumford on the mound in the fifth frame of the seven inning contest, allowing no hits.

Reds Win Opener from Cubs But Nightcap Ends in Tie

By JOE REICHLER

(By the Associated Press)

Hal Newhouse of the Detroit Tigers finally is fulfilling the promise he gave five years ago of becoming the finest lefthander in the American League.

The 23-year-old Southpaw yesterday became the first pitcher in the league to win 10 games, helping the Tigers take both games of a doubleheader from the league leading St. Louis Browns, 7-3 and 7-5.

He joins Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds as the only 10-game winner in the majors.

In pitching his seventh complete game of the year, Hal gave up six hits and fanned five in the opener. A home run by Rudy York with one on in the ninth gave the Tigers a clean sweep.

Paul Trout, in relief, won his eighth victory of the season.

Giants Win Two

The New York Giants took both ends of a twin bill from the Boston Braves, 9-2 and 7-1, to climb into third place in the National League standings, a half game ahead of the Reds. Phil Weintraub homered in the first game, but had to leave in the third inning because of a strained muscle.

Cliff Melton, making his first start since May 19, was the winner in the nightcap, but retired in the seventh inning complaining of a sore arm.

The Philadelphia Athletics downed the New York Yankees twice, 4-0 and 8-6, to drop the world champions into sixth place.

Luke Hamlin blanked the Yankees with four hits in the opener, with Frank Hayes hitting his eighth homer to tie the Roy Cullenbine for the league lead.

A six-run first inning enabled the A's to win the second, 8-6.

The Chicago White Sox took two close games from the Cleveland Indians, 3-2 in ten innings, and 6-5.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Phillies divided their two games, the Dodgers winning the first 7-3 and the Phillies taking the second 6-2.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates split a double header. Mort Cooper won the sixth game in the opener, 12-2, and Fritz Ostermueller tamed the Cards, 3-1, with three hits in the nightcap.

After losing the opener to the Boston Red Sox, 9-6, Washington took the nightcap 1-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Early Wynn.

Reds Beat Cubs

Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 in the first game of a double header before 40,222 fans, the largest crowd of the season, at Wrigley Field.

The second game ended in a 6-6 tie called after 13 innings on account of darkness.

Harry Gumbert, acquired last week from the St. Louis Cardinals, pitched the opener for Cincinnati and allowed the Cubs five hits.

The Reds got a run in the first inning on a single by Gee Walker and Frank McCormick's single.

In the fifth, Max Marshall lofted a homer for another score. Single runs were added to the Reds' score in the sixth, seventh and ninth.

Gumbert weakened in the sixth when a streak of wildness allowed the Cubs to get two runs. Hank Hughes, opposing pitcher, and Rod Hughes walked and Phil Cavarretta doubled to score Wyse.

Another walk filled the bases and a long fly brought in the other run.

In the nightcap the Cincinnati team led 6 to 5 going into the ninth inning but Bill Nicholson hit his second home run of the game to tie matters.

COUNTY SHORT $742,143 IN WAR BOND DRIVE

War Bond Movie To Be at Fayette Theater on Thursday

Fayette Counties today faced a $742,143.36 shortage in the Fifth War Loan goal. The $29,714.50 worth of bonds sold Saturday—most of them G bonds—brought the grand total sales up to $197,856.64. The sum represents 403 separate purchases. E bond sales Monday morning totalled $48,747.14, a fraction of the $376,000 quota set aside for the popular "people's" bonds.

War Bond Movie
Bonds purchased Wednesday or Thursday this week will admit the purchaser to "For Me and My Gal" at the Fayette Theater Thursday. The purchase certificate of the bond, which must be bought in Fayette County, will admit one person.

Campaign chairman A. B. Murray and F. E. Hill, chairman of the war finance committee here, said a special drive to sell bonds will be conducted throughout the county on Wednesday and Thursday.

Rural Progress
Farmers' soliciting is slow, W. W. Montgomery, chairman of rural activities, said today. He said this time of year is a busy time for farmers and that enthusiasm for selling bonds lags from the time element rather than lack of enthusiasm in the bonds themselves.

HEAT INCREASES POLICE CALLS

Many Family, Neighborhood Squabbles Reported

During the past few days of intense heat police have received numerous calls day and night to settle family or neighborhood squabbles.

"We always look for an increased number of such calls when hot weather comes," said Captain Jess Ellis in reporting the many calls due to minor disturbances.

Captain Ellis blames the heat which, it seems, causes many persons to become irritable due to loss of sleep.

Some of the calls have been regarding dogs that howl most of the night; of rabbits eating victory gardens; of dogs running at large, and of children trespassing upon other people's property, damaging gardens and flowers.

Beachhead Expanded
The Saipan beachhead established by Marines, with the support of army infantry units, at last reports extended from Aginagan Point on the southwestern tip, where the Americans landed last Wednesday, five and a half miles up the west coast almost to Garapan, the island's largest town.

Japanese units strongly counter-attacked with tanks before dawn Friday, after the tanks had pushed north and east for two miles and captured the coastal village and airstrip of Charan-Kanoa, and the island town of Hinashishu, more than halfway across the island.

Holding staunchly, the Americans forced the enemy back, inflicting heavy casualties and knocking out 25 Japanese tanks.

Early Saturday the Japanese attempted new tactics, a landing assault south of Garapan. Headquarters said the attempt was smashed and 13 troop-laden

GIRL TREATED FOR YEAR OLD BURNS

Caroletta Brown in Grant Hospital Now

Little Caroletta Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown of Sedalia, is today in Grant Hospital being treated for third degree body burns suffered a year ago.

She was rushed to the hospital in the Max Morrow ambulance Friday afternoon for a blood transfusion.

Caroletta had been in a wheel chair for a time before new developments in the treatment of her burns made a transfusion necessary, it was said. The accident, in which she was shut in a flaming hog house, happened a year ago when Caroletta was ten.

enemy barge destroyed. There was no indication whether the barges came from Saipan, where an estimated 30,000 Japanese are entrenched, or from Tinian Island three miles to the south.

American warships shelled the island in support of the invasion. The fighting line at last reports skirted the western edge of the 3,600-foot Aslito airstrip and was less than three miles from Magicienne Bay on the east coast.

The Japanese radio claimed Sunday that since the Marianas invasion June 11 the Nipponese had sunk an American battleship and a "warship," seriously damaged two battleships and two carriers and destroyed 124 American planes.

Among the warships protecting the American forces on Saipan was a World War destroyer converted into a destroyer transport. Nimitz said this warship, unaided, sank five enemy coastal freighters. Twenty-nine survivors were captured.

CHECK WORKER THUMBS A RIDE TO COUNTY JAIL

Man Wanted Was Ready To Ride With Deputy Sheriff Frank Grubbs

Clarence Newland, walking along the Jamestown road early Monday forenoon, halted to thumb a ride, and the man driving the car was Deputy Sheriff Frank Grubbs who had been sent out to arrest Newland for giving some worthless checks.

Newland, recognized Deputy Grubbs as the deputy smiled, halted the car, and opened the door for Newland to step in. Newland stepped into the car, smiling, and at the same time knowing that he was under arrest, although the word arrest had not been mentioned.

Turning about Deputy Grubbs brought his prisoner back to this city, and took him to Justice of the Peace, George Worrell, where Newland was held to the grand jury under $100 but given a certain length of time to make good the three bad checks, and costs amounting to $55.70, which he expected to do.

Someone who knew that Sheriff W. H. Icenhower held a warrant for Newland's arrest had tipped the sheriff off that Newland had headed out the Jamestown road, so his arrest was easy.
